Re: TM-500; Transfer of Property Accountability

Gentlemen:

Property generated under the Agreement poses certain problems that must be ironed out for the mutual benefit of the several parties involved. I had occasion recently to mention this to Joe P., and I am sure he is fairly familiar with this problem.

The property in question consists of the following:

- (a) Certain items procured while the Project was in being have been transferred physically to [REDACTED] STATINTL
[REDACTED] Some of these items have in fact been incorporated into other units, and, therefore lost their physical identity. Please refer to Ex. 1, attached; items marked [REDACTED] STATINTL
- (b) Other items of equipment procured under the Agreement were physically taken into the custody [REDACTED] when the task force moved over to [REDACTED] to carry on the program. Please refer to Ex. 1, attached; items marked [REDACTED] STATINTL
- (c) Four items procured under the Agreement and presently located at our [REDACTED] STATINTL
Your program has no further need for this property and we suggest accountability be transferred to [REDACTED] Please refer to Exhibit 1, attached; items identified as "Note 4".

(d) Equipment procured by our [REDACTED] tory for use in connection with Contract No. AF19(122)-458 was later used for the task and sent to the Site, to expedite the program. The use of this equipment was approved by the Air Force Resident Contracting Officer. Please refer to Ex. 2, attached.

Our property records were audited by your representative and I feel quite sure that all material was satisfactorily accounted for insofar as record purposes are concerned. Listings of the property at that time were given to the auditor with the understanding that any physical verification would be accomplished by your representatives at [REDACTED] or [REDACTED] L

STATINTL

We suggest the following action be taken by your office:

1. Relieve [REDACTED] for accountability of property referred to in (a) and (b).
2. Approve transfer of accountability for property (c) to Account AFH #2835 as GFP under Air Force cognizance.
3. Acknowledge acceptance of responsibility for Air Force property (d) furnished to your program and advise us of the cognizant Property Officer and Account Number so that the transfer can be made.

We hope that these transactions may be accomplished without too much delay in order to close out the release required by the Agreement.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
Manager
